Xavier Charter School (XCS) is dedicated to providing a classical, academically rigorous, content-rich liberal arts education, that prepares students to excel in every duty and guides them toward wisdom and virtue. The primary way by which this mission is accomplished is through the Socratic discussion method of teaching combined with a focus on the great classic works of literature, history, the arts, and the sciences. The faculty at XCS agrees with the teacher and author Benjamin Barber when he states that, "Well-taught students learn to suspect every claim to truth and then to redeem truth provisionally by its capacity to withstand pointed questioning." That being said, we are seeking intellectual individuals who have a passion for their fields of expertise as well as a passion for teaching young people. We require someone with an entrepreneurial approach to their work. We seek individuals with the capacity and intrinsic motivation to teach in such a way that the material itself transcends the classroom and has true relevance to the lives of their students.
